My YouTube channel: Nocorebytes.Love it or hate it, 2015 was the year of artisanal and niche craft beers. Discovery has long been a part of the craft beer industry, but it exploded in 2015. From breweries that primarily make one style to breweries that barrel/keg everything, beer drinkers got to enjoy some truly unique experiences. In addition to the development of the craft beer craft scene, Discovery grew to better accommodate customer needs. With customer desire being at an all-time high, and many people seeking a unique beverage experience, craft brewers had to find new ways to get their product on the market. One of those ways was the development of limited time release and seasonal beers. There is no better way to get your product out there than to do it with a one-off, unique, exciting release. These beers, and those that follow, are what Discovery is all about. Here at Discovery, we recognize what's trending in craft beer. While we certainly enjoy and respect the pure ales that make up the Great American Beer Festival, as we all know, that's not the only style that people are drinking. With the expansion of the craft beer industry, breweries are able to create a wider variety of styles of beer. Some breweries brew more than one style, while other breweries focus primarily on one style. We want to be the craft brewery that is the destination for that unique beer that you're looking for. Our limited time and seasonal beers provide the freshest and most compelling beers that you will ever try. Discover new beer trends and craft beers to share with friends and family.. "It's like a game of Russian roulette," one said. "It's an emotional roller coaster," said another. "It's not safe," a third said. The Commission heard from one person who told of a friend who had been "attacked by a dog off the back of a truck". Another worried about her daughter being hit by a car, a third was concerned
