TechSmithCamtasiaStudio201818033747LatestSerialKeyRegional lymph node excision in canine mammary tumours: analysis of 179 cases. A study was performed of 179 cases of mammary tumours, collected from surgical specimens of dogs examined at the Department of Veterinary Surgery, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, University of Parma, Italy, from January 1986 to December 1988. The anatomical region, the histological type of the tumour and the histological grade were recorded. The metastasis to regional lymph nodes was analysed, in correlation with the histological findings of primary tumour and metastasis. The study established that the most important prognostic factor in mammary tumours was the histological grade of the primary lesion. The metastatic rate to regional lymph nodes was higher in tumours of intermediate than low grade. The metastatic rate to sentinel nodes was higher than that to peripheral nodes. The results show that regional lymph node excision is an important prognostic factor for mammary tumours. The sentinel nodes can be used for intraoperative diagnosis of metastatic mammary tumours.

Q: How do I parse the contents of a PHP generated HTML page with Python? For example, I have a PHP page that prints this: Header Content In Python, how would I extract the text between the HTML tags? What is the best way to do this? A: You can use `lxml.html.fromstring()`

import lxml.html import lxml.etree html = "Header Content" h = lxml.html.fromstring(html) h.xpath('//*[@name()= "h1"]/text()') # 'Header'

Disease resistance to Leptosphaeria maculans in Arum sphacelatum and A. crenulatum. Root rot of flax caused by the fungus Leptosphaeria maculans is a major disease in flax grown in temperate regions. No commercial fungicide treatments for controlling the disease are available. We investigated the ability of A. crenulatum and A. sphacelatum, wild annual species of Arum growing on post-glacial sites in Scotland, to carry the fungal infection
