Nzt download utorrent 3.30.1 for macQ: Passing value from child component to parent component in Angular I have a parent component and a child component. The parent component has a list of objects and the child component has a search bar. I am trying to show the filtered list of results after a user types in the search bar. This is the parent component export class MainComponent implements OnInit { results: any; userSearch: string; filteredResults: any; myObjectList: any; constructor(private service: Service) { } ngOnInit() { this.service.getData().subscribe(data => { this.results = data; }); } onClick(obj: any) { this.myObjectList = obj; } myObjects() { return this.results.filter((o: any) => { return o.id === this.userSearch; }) } ngOnDestroy() { this.results.subscribe(data => { this.results = data; }); } } This is the child component export class StudentDetailsComponent implements OnInit { student: any; constructor(private service: Service) { } ngOnInit() { this.service.getStudentDetails(this.student.id).subscribe(data => { this.student = data; }); } {{item.firstName}} {{item.lastName}} {{item.city}} So, I want to show the filtered list 4bc0debe42
