

“The Manse on Soracca is an amazing game by Doom legend Juan “Buzzy” Moles. The bugs have come to the Soracca Mansion and they are in complete control. If you are not in a Bug Manse, you'll have to defend your base to save the last copies of mankind. You must choose your actions carefully, because maybe a creaky floorboard is hiding a nasty surprise!” Features: - Amazing graphics - three different rooms, from a period a century ago to another from modern times - Easy to play, easy to control and relax - When you complete the level, there are several bonus levels available - And, besides, this game comes with 3 different soundtracks that allows you to use when you will want to defend your base - Extra levels available at no cost. This version, The Manse on Soracca.2, as well as the versions 1 and 3, are the same game, just a new cover, with a graphic adaptation in the cover. I am the Skree Announcer, and I want to help you! I am actually a huge fan of The Binding of Isaac and I love hearing about the crazy characters that the community has created. Therefore, after hours and hours of learning how to play by trial and error, I have developed a new way to run my commentary, and I am throwing it at you! I have spent hours and hours recording my commentary and I have now developed a really neat way for you to listen. *Using the in-game menu, click “Announcer” under “Channels” and change it to “I am the Skree Announcer” * After that, you can simply press the “Start Recording” button in the main menu. This will send the audio directly to your microphone with a 30 second delay! Once you have finished recording, you are now able to play the game in your preferred environment, and listen to the Skree Announcer. Just turn the volume down as much as you like, and enjoy! Within hours of my launch, I will be releasing a ton of content and also be giving away a free 6-month add-on that allows you to listen to the Skree Announcer during any game!
