What is a thesaurus anyway? Well, a thesaurus is a word, phrase or a set of words, word or phrase that can be substituted for another in a text, with a clear preference of the substitute. Microsoft Word Word Processor is a suite of tools that is used to create and modify publications, usually documents. Document creation is done by creating a new document, adding pages, place images, creating sections, inserting text, and formatting the text. The Word processor also includes tools for creating mind maps, creating word lists, and creating bulleted lists. HOW TO USE WORD PROCESSOR First, select the text you want to edit in the document, then select the edit option. The options to be added to the document will appear. HOW TO USE THE THESURS The thesaurus allows the user to look for a word and suggest a synonym, antonym or an example of a word that is similar to the intended word or phrase. The thesaurus is structured as a book. You can select an entry by clicking its title and selecting the word or phrase you wish to use. To look up similar words, you can select the example entries from the previous page or from the list of examples above. You can also search for words by a sentence. So if you have a sentence that you are typing, you can select a word from the thesaurus and the program will write the whole sentence. After you are done typing, press "ENTER" to end the thesaurus sentence and continue with what you have typed. Although the thesaurus provides all the features that you may need to search for your desired word or phrase, it is not a dictionary. So you must not expect that the thesaurus will tell you how to spell a word. The thesaurus is not a dictionary, because the way of searching words differs from dictionary to thesaurus

Omar Salgado, the former USA Youth National Team standout goalkeeper, is added to the Earthquakes' roster for Saturday's match against Vancouver. Salgado is a 21-year old product of the Earthquakes Academy. In his rookie season with San Jose, Salgado went 13-5-2 with eight shutouts and a 1.55 goals against average. In the 2012 U.S. Open Cup, Salgado went 2-0-2 with a 0.53 goals-against average. In his second year with the Earthquakes, Salgado went 7-10-3 with five shutouts and a 0.86 goals against average in 23 games. The Earthquakes outshot the Sounders but failed to cash in on a number of opportunities in a 2-2 tie at CenturyLink Field. Saturday's mid-week trip to Vancouver marks the fourth time the Earthquakes will play the Whitecaps this season. "It was a big challenge for the kids in our academy," said Earthquakes Academy director Seth Stoeper. "Omar has worked extremely hard since the day he showed up. He understands the game better than most and that shows in his play." Vancouver will host an Earthquakes U-16 side next week in a friendly prior to their first match of the 2013 MLS season on March 19. The Earthquakes play host to Sporting Kansas City at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday at Buck Shaw Stadium at Avaya Stadium in the season opener for both teams.
