I wanted to sit with what I heard first and develop a relationship with the treatment instead of attempt to 'bring it up

h' (or whatever). Second, I took this treatment with me from home (L4) to the conference and during the conference, I went back and forth between the battery and the system. As per the manual, if not going to use the system for more than 2 hours, then you should properly stored the battery in a protective case while in transit. The battery charges enough so I can switch between the battery system for about 2 hours. No planning ahead on my part, but that's the reason the manual says you only have 2-hr of use. So without the customization, I thought it was worth the extra money to get a battery with the bonus of an extra 10 drops of fragrance. The price is alright if I were going to take this as a home-use treatment that is less than 2 hours of use. Secondly, I was somewhat pleased at how the battery worked; it certainly didn't blow out the warmth. Several friends said the same. I was particularly pleased that it didn't dissolve the gel on my lips. This being my first purchase, I am hesitant to buy more. I'd rather have something that is a little better quality, even with the promotions. I do, however, believe that Lil' Kim should have a minimum of a patch retainer. In the future, I would like to have more control. I did this because I had a hard time keeping the cup on my lips during a dance session. I think a sticky, coated piece of plastic could hold it on longer. Of course this falls under experimentation. Re: Excellent review. I also am looking at buying this. I want to make sure I get the #1. I have seen a few reviews that say that to get the better version with the longer lasting scent you need the #1 but they aren't promos at that point.
